Linear Air to Sponsor and Exhibit at Upcoming Events in New York and New England

Concord, Mass., August 14, 2008 – Linear Air will be a key sponsor and exhibitor at several events over the next few weeks in the key travel regions of New York and New England. A provider of point-to-point air taxi service for the mid-Atlantic region to eastern Canada, Linear Air is sponsoring the 5th Annual Hedge Fund Regatta in New York City, the Fidelity Jumper Classic in Hampton Falls, New Hampshire and exhibiting at the Porsche Business Aircraft & Jet Preview in Westhampton, New York.

As a sponsor of the Hedge Fund Regatta on August 20, Linear Air will be helping fund New York City's first junior sailing program. On August 22, Linear Air will be exhibiting at the Porsche Business Aircraft & Jet Preview, an event where attendees will have the opportunity to see the most cutting-edge aircrafts available for business travel. On September 6 and 7, Linear Air will be a sponsor of the Fidelity Jumper Classic, which includes a charity luncheon and family day activities that benefit the University of New Hampshire's Therapeutic Riding Program and the University's first Equestrian Special Olympics Team

“Linear Air is invested in the areas we service, which include New York and New England,” said Bill Herp, CEO of Linear Air. “We are continually looking for opportunities to communicate how Linear Air is changing air travel and at the same time support key community-based organizations. These events allow us to further connect Linear Air with the areas we serve.”

Known for its exceptional and efficient service, Linear Air tailors trips for its business and leisure customers to meet their specific needs. Arrival and departure times are based on the customer's schedule, eliminating time spent waiting in airports and preventing additional hotel costs for overnight stays. Linear Air also services easily accessible regional airports, which are typically closer to customer's homes and offices.
